

Directives for the 2005 Planning Rule

The Forest Service has issued ten (10) final directives to Forest Service Manuals 1900, and 1920 and Forest Service Handbook 1909.12 chapters zero code, 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, and 80. These documents establish procedures and responsibilities for implementing the 2005 planning rule (published in the Federal Register on January 5, 2005). FSH 1909.12, chapter 70 will be issued separately.

Twelve Interim Directives for 2005 planning rule

Document	Description
FSM 1900, Zero Code	Makes authorities, objectives, and definitions consistent with the 2005 planning rule.
FSM 1920, Land Management Planning	Manual for land management planning under the 2005 planning rule. (see Outline below)
FSH 1909.12, Land management Planning Handbook, Zero Code	Handbook authorities, responsibilities and definitions
FSH 1909.12, chapter 10, Land Management Plan	How to write a plan
FSH 1909.12, chapter 20, The Adaptive Planning Process	How to address the process
FSH 1909.12, chapter 30, Public Participation and Collaboration	How to collaborate
FSH 1909.12, chapter 40, Science and Sustainability	How to do science reviews and meet social, economic, and ecological sustainability requirements
FSH 1909.12, chapter 50, Objection Process	How to process objections
FSH 1909.12, chapter 60, Forest Vegetation Resource Planning	How to do identify lands not suitable for timber production and calculate long term sustained yield,
FSH 1909.12, chapter 70, Wilderness Evaluation	How to inventory and evaluate wilderness potential
FSH 1909.12, chapter 80, Wild and Scenic River Evaluation	How to inventory and evaluate wild and scenic river potential

Outline of FSM 1900 chapter 1920 Land Management Planning Final Directive
