

Maple—Column of discoloration and decay associated with a wound developing around a central column of discoloration. The entire column of wood present at the time of wounding has been altered slightly. When this wood is dried, it will be a different shade from the wood that formed after wounding.

Pine—Column of discolored and decayed wood associated with a wound developing around a central column of discolored heartwood associated with poorly healed branch stubs.

