

TSALILA: 2003

The Umpqua River Festival

September 13, 10AM-5PM

September 14, 11AM-4PM

List of Exhibits and Activities

Tsalila (sa-LEE-la) is a free, family-oriented, education-based, watershed festival that is free and open to the public. Most of the exhibits have a hands-on activity for children, or the kid in all of us.

The Tsalila Festival features the following exhibits and displays (see reverse side). During your child's school field trip he or she was only able to visit six of these stations. We encourage you to return with the whole family during the weekend festival and see all of Tsalila's exhibits, displays, and activities.

Tribal Village

Flintknapping – Make Arrowheads
Storytelling – Traditional Indian Stories
Drumming and Dancing
History
Beading
Native Tools
Basket Making
Indian Education
Salmon Life-cycle

Pioneer Living Experience

Learning Centers

Gold Panning – Pan for Fools Gold
Children's – Folk Toys and Old-Time Games
Ma & Pa – Experience Daily Chores
Clothing – Turn Wool to Yarn
Kitchen – Grind Wheat into Flour
Crafts – See and Make Old-Time Crafts

Conservation

Water Cycle
Life in the Air – Hawks and Owls
Life at Night – Bat display and activity
Life in the Water – Salmon Aquarium
More Life in the Water – Aquatic Insects
The River Box
Lake Study – Tools of the Trade
The Estuary – Soup of Life
Life (and Death) on the Beach
Prehistoric Uses – Nature's Grocery Store
Neotropical Birds
Historic Logging
Forest Products – Talk About Trees
Transportation: –Boating Safety
The Salmon Maze – Life Cycle Activity

Additional Fun

Merchant Village – Arts and Crafts Vendors
Sell Their Wares
Salmon Dinner (Cost Involved)
Umpqua Discover Center (FREE)
Volkspaddle (Sunday Morning Only)
Dean Creek Elk Viewing (nearby)
Umpqua Lighthouse State Park (nearby)