APPLICANTS SOUGHT FOR RECREATION RESOURCE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

LAKESWOOD, Colo., April 16, 2009 – The Forest Service Rocky Mountain Region and Colorado Bureau of Land Management Colorado (BLM) are seeking nominations to fill four positions on the Colorado Recreation Resource Advisory Council (Recreation RAC). The Council provides the agencies with recommendations on recreation fee matters for Forest Service and BLM lands in Colorado.

Positions expiring are 1) Non-motorized winter recreation, 2) Hunting and Fishing, 3) Motorized Outfitter/Guides and 4) local governments. Current members in these positions are eligible to re-apply.

The creation of the Recreation RAC is a requirement of the 2004 Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act (REA), which helps the agencies deliver high-quality recreation services and facilities for public land visitors.

“Many recreation opportunities on our forests are free of charge,” said Regional Forester Rick Cables. “Modest fees, however, are charged for sites where amenities are provided to enhance the quality of the recreation experience.” Examples of amenities include items such as picnic tables, trash collection, restroom facilities, potable water, boat ramps, and interpretive exhibits.

“The Recreation RAC, helps the BLM and Forest Service implement the provisions of the Recreation Enhancement Act with the help of those who enjoy recreation activities on Federal lands,” said Sally Wisely, Colorado BLM State Director. “Recreation RACs play a vital role in helping us to achieve public satisfaction and participation.”

All Recreation RAC meetings will be open to the public and time to comment on the fee proposals is planned during each meeting.
