

Things to See and Do in PINEDALE

Museum of the Mountain Man

Museum of the Mountain Man

A visual and interpretive experience of the era of the Mountain Man, the museum is the place to experience the life of the fur trader, and the early settlement of western Wyoming. Here, you can also view the wonderful collection of Western Fur trade artifacts, including Jim Bridger's rifle.

COME TO THE GREEN RIVER RENDEZVOUS
Every year on the 2nd weekend in July!

Winter Fun

From uncrowded downhill skiing to groomed cross country trails through the trees, we've got winter recreation covered.

Want to travel farther and faster? Rent a snowmobile and explore the Continental Divide Trail or take a dog sled ride to a hot springs for a steamy dip. Wildlife viewing is great in the winter too.

Get Wet!

With over 1,300 lakes in the surrounding area, Pinedale loves the water. Rent a boat and cruise Fremont Lake or hire a fishing guide for a trip to the river. Grab a picnic and head to one of the parks along Pine Creek right in town.

Wander the Wilderness

Pinedale is surrounded by mountains -- get out and enjoy them! Local outfitters can guide you to pristine mountain lakes on horseback or you can lead your own llama.

Catch breakfast and then dally in a wildflower meadow watching the clouds roll by. Ride along the Lander Cutoff of the Oregon Trail and smell the sage.

History comes alive here!

Get Out of Town

With spectacular scenery every way you turn, the hard part is choosing a direction. Use Pinedale as a base camp and try all the day trips listed at the Visitor Center before heading on up the Byway to our adventurous neighbors in Jackson and Dubois. Ask about a back way to Dubois -- beautiful Union Pass.)

Bald Mountain Outfitters

Don't forget to stop in the little communities along the way for local information and even a great piece of pie!
