

POTENTIAL VISION STATEMENT CONCLUSIONS FROM CHERRY COMMUNITY PUBLIC WORKSHOP

Maintain community outreach programs to foster voluntary community involvement, input and feedback to inform policy development and facilitate implementation.

Utilize communities as on-site resources to monitor both natural and human induced occurrences in the national forest setting.

Recognize that private interests maintain a tangible stake in best outcomes strategic planning.

Whenever desirable and feasible promote partnerships between local communities, municipal, state and federal agencies to formulate and achieve goals.

Maintain the highest standards of ethical conduct as trustees of a national asset.

Identify controversial issues and attempt resolution through public educational campaigns.

It was noted that the National Forest is the backyard and garden of all citizens and most individual operators would not damage their own personal property in the way they do in the national forest setting. A public educational campaign to increase environmental awareness