

Attention! Help protect your wildlife.

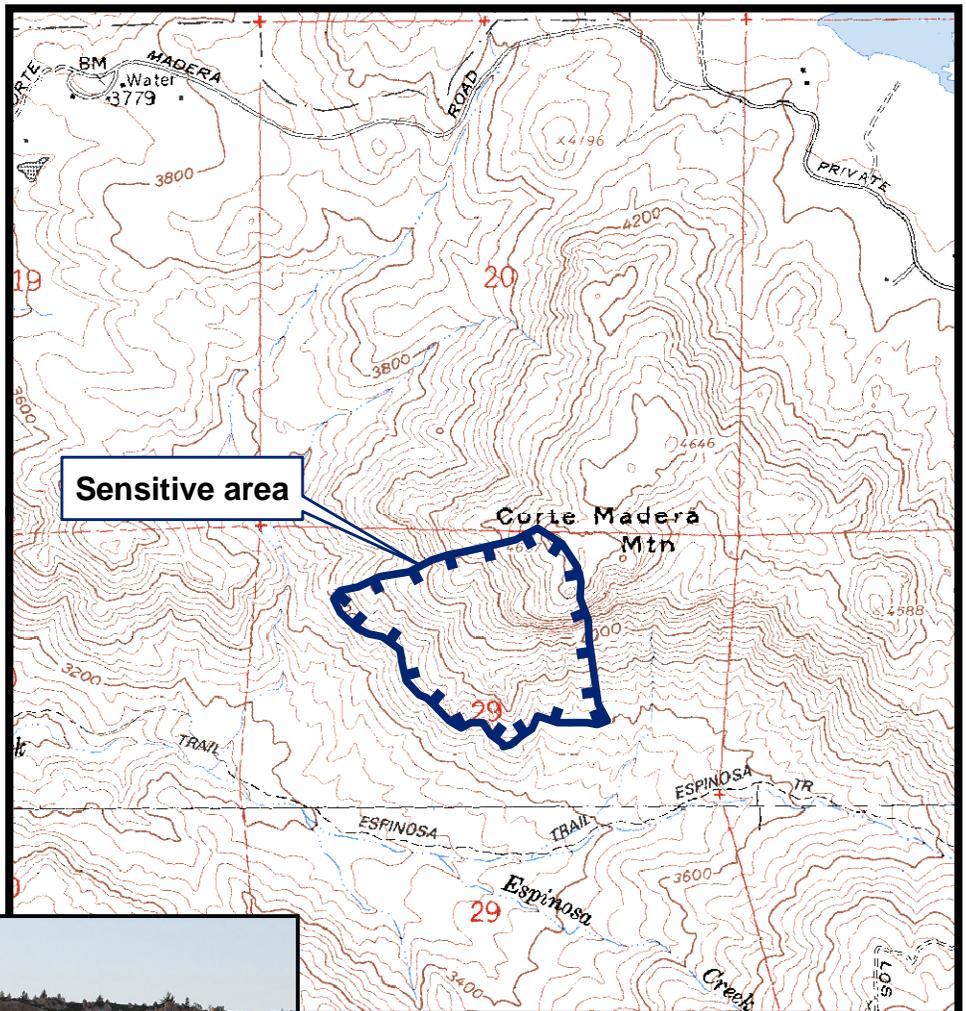

To protect prairie falcons, please avoid hiking or climbing in the Corte Madera Mountain area, as shown on the map below, through July 1. This includes all climbing routes west of route 1646 as shown on page 155 of the San Diego County Climbing Guide (Kennedy and Hubbard 2006), including South Buttress and all formations west of South Buttress.

How you can help protect prairie falcons

Cliffs on the Cleveland National Forest provide critical breeding habitat for prairie falcons. Human disturbance may cause falcons to abandon their nests and may result in offspring dying. Please avoid these sensitive nesting areas to protect falcons. If you would like to learn more about prairie falcons, please visit the Cleveland NF website at:
