Robbs Hut

The bunkhouse of a now inactive fire lookout at the top of Robbs Peak serves as a year-round rental. The 6,686-foot elevation offers a spectacular view of the Crystal Range of the Sierras. Robbs Peak is 43 miles from Placerville via Highway 50 and Ice House Road. Although open year-round, the 3-mile access road to the hut must be traversed with snowshoes or skis during the winter months. The hut can accommodate up to six people, has propane lights, cook stove and heat, but no running water. It rents for $65.00 per night. Reservations may be made by calling (877) 444-6777 or www.Recreation.gov. Information may be obtained by calling the Pacific Ranger District (530) 647-5415.

Harvey West Cabin

The Harvey West Cabin was constructed in the early 1930s by the Sacramento Box and Lumber Company as an office and recreational facility. It was later purchased by Harvey West, a prominent local businessman and philanthropist, and used as a summer retreat by his family from 1936 to the early 1970s. Located next to the China Flat campground, the 2,000 square foot cabin includes a large open great room, dining room, kitchen, two downstairs bedrooms, 1 ½ bathrooms, two large lofts overlooking the great room, and a large deck. The facility has hot and cold water, propane lights and appliances, and a fireplace. It does not have electricity. The Cabin rents for $105.00 per night for up to 20 people. Reservations may be made by calling (877) 444-6777 or www.Recreation.gov. Information may be obtained by calling the Placerville Ranger District (530) 644-2324.

Loon Lake Chalet

Next to beautiful Loon Lake at 6,500 feet, the chalet is a spacious modern facility. The area is popular for camping, hiking, and fishing and is a cross-country ski area in the winter. The chalet is 55 miles from Placerville via Highway 50 and Ice House Road. Available year-round, the chalet is open to the public on weekend days as a warming hut during the winter. It sleeps up to 20 people, has electric heat, a gas fireplace, vault toilet, and a kitchen with running water. The Chalet rents for $100.00 per night.
