Lassen National Forest Seeks Summer Campground Hosts

Do you enjoy camping and meeting new people? Would you like to spend the summer enjoying the great outdoors? The Lassen National Forest is looking for volunteers to be seasonal campground hosts. Campground hosts are volunteer staff who receive free camping and, as available, hook-ups at one of the forest's campgrounds in exchange for welcoming campers and helping them to enjoy their visit. Additionally hosts also perform light maintenance duties such as picking up litter, painting picnic tables and a variety of easy tasks.

Hosts receive training and recognition for their good service from the California State University, Chico Research Foundation who, by permit, has operated and maintained Lassen National Forest campgrounds for many years. Campground host opportunities are available on the Almanor, Eagle Lake and Hat Creek Ranger Districts.

If you are interested in being a campground host at a Lassen National Forest Campground, or would like more information, contact Melissa Elshafie at P.O. Box 1771, Susanville, CA 96130 or call her at 530-257-6952.
