Members Sought for Forest Service Advisory Committee in Plumas County

Quincy, January 22, 2009 – Officials of the Plumas National Forest are doing outreach to fill five positions of the federal Resource Advisory Committee (RAC) in Plumas County. “I am very pleased the Plumas County Supervisors elected to have a Resource Advisory Committee (RAC) as allowed under the provisions of the reauthorized Secure Rural Schools legislation, said Alice Carlton, Plumas National Forest (PNF) Supervisor. “The Plumas County RAC has done an excellent job soliciting and recommending projects funded by the previous legislation.”

By law, the 4-year term, fifteen-member committee is composed of a wide representation of National Forest interests organized into 3 categories. An additional person is also appointed for each category (3 total positions) as a replacement should a committee member leave for any reason from that category. A replacement may represent any interest in the category but does not act as a member until a permanent vacancy occurs.

The Secure Rural Schools and Community Self-Determination Act of 2000 or Public Law 110-343 replaced an arrangement that gave counties 25% of Forest Service receipts from logging, grazing, recreation and other activities on national forest lands.

In the first of the four year life span of the legislation, Plumas County will receive about $5,737,643 (Title I monies) which will be spent on Plumas County schools and roads.

Additionally, using the fiscal decision making process prescribed by the legislation, the Plumas County Board of Supervisors has directed about $540,013 (Title II monies), for projects to be recommended by the RAC to the Forest Service for the benefit of local trails, roads, forest health, watershed, and fish and wildlife habitat on federally managed lands in Butte County or on private land if the project benefits federal resources. According to Forest Supervisor Carlton, RAC funds are typically leveraged to produce an equal amount of matching funds or in-kind contributions. Generally, Title II monies and processes are federally managed.

Also, another $472,512 (Title III monies), the maximum allowed by the legislation, will be available for a more narrow array of natural resource related projects; a process managed entirely by the Plumas County Board of Supervisors.

Recommended Title II or “RAC” projects must have broad community based support with objectives that may include, but are not limited to: 1) road, trail, and infrastructure maintenance or obliteration; soil productivity improvements; improvements in forest ecosystem health; watershed restoration and maintenance; restoration, maintenance, and improvement of wildlife and fish habitat; control of noxious and exotic weeds; hazardous fuels reduction; and reintroduction of native species. Projects must be on public land but can occur on private land if it can be demonstrated that there is a benefit to public land resources.

The Plumas County RAC is currently soliciting projects for both current and next year's implementation. Cycle 8 project applications and instructions are available on the PNF website listed below.

If you would like to get more information about the Secure Rural Schools legislation, including Titles I, II and III, please visit the SRS website at www.fs.fed.us/srs.

If you are interested in applying for a vacant position on the RAC, an interest form is available on the PNF website at: <http://www.fs.fed.us/r5/plumas>. Applicants must complete a cover letter and the short interest form initially and finally, a background screening by the FBI. Questions regarding the website information may be directed to Lee Anne Schramel Taylor, PNF Resource Advisory Committee Coordinator, at (530) 283-7850.

Interest forms are due no later than February 20, 2009. All information necessary for response is included on the interest form.
