Footnotes on p. 2.

National forests.—Areas established as national forests by Act of Congress or Presidential proclamation. Acreages shown as under Forest Service administration include small administrative sites outside of proclaimed boundaries and the four small shop sites in Montana, California, and Wisconsin. Land utilization project lands or other areas over which the Forest Service has supervision are not included; such lands being listed under the classification "Land utilization and other areas."

Purchase units.—Areas established by the Secretary of Agriculture with the concurrence of the National Forest Reservation Commission but not formalized by Act of Congress or Presidential proclamation. Acreages shown under Forest Service administration include small administrative sites outside the established boundaries. Land utilization project lands or other areas over which the Forest Service has administration are not included; such lands being listed under the classification "Land utilization and other areas."

Experimental areas.—Areas outside of the exterior boundaries of national forests or purchase units which have been reserved and dedicated to forest or range research and experimentation by Executive order or other authorized administrative action. The Massabesic Experimental Forest in Maine and the McNeill Division of the Harrison Experimental Forest in Mississippi, which have both purchase-unit and experimental status, are only included in the experimental-area summaries.

Land utilization and other areas.—See caption and footnote of special table on p. 13.

² Does not include lands within certain state forests in Michigan and Minnesota which have been acquired by the United States with intent to exchange them for State lands within the national forests.

³ Exclusive of 1,800 acres of the Beltsville Research Center of the Department of Agriculture, assigned to the Forest Service for use as an experimental area.

⁴ See table on p. 13.

LAND UTILIZATION AND OTHER AREAS¹

Lands acquired by the United States in pursuance of certain national programs of land utilization and adjustment, which by order of the Secretary of Agriculture have been placed under the administration of the Forest Service but have not yet been given a national forest status. Some of such lands are wholly or partially within the boundaries of national forests or purchase units, but their acreage is not shown as part of the national forest or purchase unit acreage. The Fort Bayard Reservation, New Mexico, was placed under the administration of the Forest Service by the Federal Works Agency.
