

Selway-Bitterroot Foundation Board Members

Sarah Walker retired from the Clearwater National Forest in 2002 and now lives Moscow, Idaho. She has worked as a botanist, editor and natural history writer. She served as a wilderness ranger in the Selway-Bitterroot Wilderness for 15 years for the Lochsa District in Kooskia, Idaho. Secretary

Tom Kovalicky retired from his 30 year US Forest Service career in 1991. After working in various forests in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho, he now resides in Grangeville, Idaho. Tom is or has been a member of the Society of American Forester, Idaho Fish and Wildlife Foundation, Idaho Outfitters and Guides Licensing Board, Idaho Rivers Unlimited, National Smoke Jumpers Association, Sustainable Obtainable Solutions Foundation, Boy Scouts of America, local Chamber of Commerce, as well as others. Vice Chair

Lisa Gerloff lives in Missoula, Montana. She received a BA in geology from the University of Minnesota, Morris and a MS in geology from the University of Calgary. Lisa has worked trail crew and forest inventory for the Forest Service and has been a teacher and mentor in the outdoor therapeutic education field. She now works at The University of Montana, where she coordinates the Rocky Mountains Cooperative Ecosystem Studies Unit, a multi agency/university partnership which provides research, technical assistance and education to federal resource managers, and the Wilderness Management Distance Education Program. Chair

Bob Schumaker grew up in the Bitterroot Valley and spent the summers of his youth on the Selway River at the McGruder Ranger Station where his father was a district ranger. He worked his way through the University of Idaho as a smokejumper. After retiring as a nuclear engineer for the U.S. Navy, Bob moved back to the Bitterroot and now lives in Hamilton, Montana. Bob volunteers every year as a fire lookout on the Salmon Mountain Lookout in the Selway.

Jane Holman was raised along the Salmon River in Idaho. She lived for several years on the Moose Creek Ranger District within the Selway-Bitterroot Wilderness, she participated in a project to gather and record the cultural history of the Selway-Bitterroot. Jane worked for the U.S. Department of Education in Washington, D.C. for 29 years. She is now retired and lives in Moscow, Idaho.

Beth Bonham lives on the Lee Metcalf National Wildlife Refuge in Stevensville, Montana. She has a BS in Wildlife and Fisheries Sciences and a MS in Zoology from Eastern New Mexico University. Beth has worked as a naturalist, a volunteer backcountry ranger, a soils conservationist, and operated her own outdoor education business. Treasurer